

Solutions for a better world ...

Honeywell is one of the worldwide leading companies in the building and industrial automation sector and is renowned for innovative products, systems and services as well as customized solutions. In order to strengthen our team in Western Switzerland, we are seeking a

Service Technician

You will assume responsibility for maintenance and commissioning tasks in the field of process control engineering in the chemical and petrochemical industry. On the basis of your technical and customer-oriented support, you will develop a long-term partnership with our customers.

Ideally, you have a professional technical qualification in control engineering, electrical/electronic engineering or automation technology. Applications will also be welcomed from novices with the above-mentioned qualifications or who are qualified in network technology with Windows and database systems. Your qualities include initiative, flexibility, teamwork, the ability to work under stress, good time management and service orientation. German and English language skills are essential, French is of advantage.

We offer a varied range of activities, ongoing further training, good development prospects and attractive employment conditions. Please send your written application marked "Personal" to Ms Bettina Handschin, Honeywell AG, Honeywell-Platz 1, 8157 Dielsdorf.

Honeywell

www.honeywell-schweiz.ch